Send this email to feature your product category in their zip code with rebate estimates.

Use the hero image at the top to announce your customers' area is offering a rebate on one of your product categories!

Here, tell your audience that they can see rebate estimates for a specific product category immediately in their zip code. Populate the zip code and product category in the Widget for them, see below.

Format the link for the call-to-action button so the product category and zip code auto-fills in the widget. Here's how to do it. Populate the blue text in the link below with your information, be sure to test the link you create to make sure it goes to the right place!
